PROJECT 196×LOVE

About us

We are Carmen and Matic, a couple planning to visit all 196 countries in the world.

The goal is to raise worldwide awareness of SUSTAINABILITY, PEACE, and LOVE, and to plant tens of thousands of trees.

We have paused our normal lives for the next few years to achieve this ambitious goal. However, we cannot do it by ourselves. In this proposal, we ask you to become a partner and to help us plant as many trees as possible.

UPDATES:

1.) Visited all 54 African countries.
2.) Planted over 650 trees all across the African continent.

SUSTAINABILITY & SUSTAIBLE TOURISM

The only way to ensure the survival of humans, animals, the environment, and consequently the concepts of peace and love is through sustainability. Our generation was given the great responsibility to protect the environment. We have to make sure to preserve the Earth and all its beauty for future generations.

We will promote sustainability by reporting about the biggest environmental issues of our time and the biggest achievements in that area. We will do a 10-minute environmental clean-up wherever and whenever possible. Our goal is to raise awareness of pollution and other environmental issues and to encourage others to do the same. Since animal agriculture has a negative impact on the environment, we will try to offset our carbon footprint by not eating beef, lamb or pork during our journey.

We will do our best to offset our carbon footprint by planting the required number of trees. We will promote sustainable tourism by traveling responsibly ourselves. We will use environmentally friendly products, minimize our waste, use water sparingly, choose ethical tour operators, and stay in sustainable hotels, resorts, and lodges as much and as often as possible.

PEACE

We can only revel in love and travel if we live in peace. Peace is a basic need and we must do our best to protect and promote it.

We will promote peace, random acts of kindness, and cooperation beyond boundaries of religion, race, ethnicity, and nationality.

LOVE

We believe in the power of love. Love can destroy hatred, stop wars, heal broken hearts, bring happiness, and even create lives. Love is the greatest power in the world.

We will promote the concept of love with our Love board. The board, which promotes peace, sustainable tourism, and above all, love, will travel with us to all 196 countries.

We will promote love by searching for the most romantic destinations and by engaging in the most romantic activities.

With visual content from all across the globe, we will prove that love is, in fact, all around us.

Carbon offsetting

Not only will we offset our own carbon footprint, we will also offset the carbon footprint of our supporting partners - smaller and larger international companies that want to become more socially responsible and that wish to promote their social responsibility to their partners and clients.

As we have partnered up with many experts in tree planting and carbon offsetting, we will plant trees wherever and whenever recommended to ensure the maximum survival rate of the trees. With the help of leading experts, we will do it skillfully and transparently and we will make sure that the trees are taken care of in the best way possible even after we leave the country.

Moreover, we are planning to visit those places, where deforestation is a big issue and where planting trees will not only help fight global warming but also prevent hunger from destroying entire communities.

The importance of carbon offsetting

Carbon offsetting is the best way to become more socially responsible. Carbon offsetting projects allow companies, organizations, and individuals to invest in environmental projects around the world in order to balance out their carbon footprints. Some projects are designed to reduce future emissions by investing in green energy technologies, others, including our own, soak up CO2 directly from the air through the planting of trees. As CO2 is the main cause of global warming and since, according to scientists, we only have 12 years to prevent irreversible damage from climate change and to save the planet, we should all start taking more responsibility. We should start offsetting our carbon footprints and encouraging others to do the same.

By carbon offsetting you would become one of the most socially responsible companies in the world and you would promote the concept of carbon offsetting to your clients and supporters and make a great contribution to preventing climate change.

Surely, there are lots of carbon offsetting companies out there. However, we are the only one that plants trees all over the world. We post about our tree planting events regularly and thus make sure that our clients can confirm that they got exactly what they have paid for. In addition, we do the work skillfully and for a very good price.

EXCHANGE OF BENEFITS

If love, peace, sustainability, and carbon offsetting seem like things worth standing for and supporting, we would be honored to collaborate with you. We will do our very best to develop custom collaboration packages to fit your needs. We will promote your business all around the world, create fresh and interesting content for you, dedicate a peace story on Instagram to you, and plant the required number of trees for you. If you are interested in any kind of collaboration, please let us know and we will make sure to create a personalized list of benefits to meet your business objectives.
